THE DEMOCRACY A BOLITIONIZED.

URead the advertisement of Cristadoro's Hair Dye in Richardson's column of "New York Advertisements." This Dye is now generally admitted to be superior to all others before the public. No. 6 Astor House, New York.

UHon. T. F. Marshall will address the people at the following times and places upon the great political issues dividing the people of the Union, irrespective of party politics or party affiliation:

Cynthians, Thursday, Oct 23d, at 2 o'clock Paris, Friday night, 24th,

Maysville, Monday night, 27th.

Flemingsburg, Tuesday 28th, at 2 o'clock Mt Sterling, Thursday 30th, do

Owingsville, Friday 31st, do

Versailles, Monday night, Nov. 3d.

Papers in Kentucky please copy.

UThe Columbus (Ga.) Times, one of the most influential Democratic papers in that State, thus testifies to the accession to Fillmore in that section:

"We are frequently asked is their any truth in the alleged reaction in favor of Fillmore and the South. Condol compels us to say there is."

UAfter several silver dollars had been picked from a greased pole at the cattle show in Pittsfield, Mass., a silver watch, said to be worth sixteen dollars, was tied to the pole. Scores tried in vain to win this. At last a little German boy climbed up like a bear-cub, clutched the prize, and slid back amid tumultuous applause. It was found that his hands were resined, but, as this was deemed fair play, he was allowed to keep the watch, and afterwards won another in the same way.

Horrible Tragedy in Kansas.

We learn from the Jacksonport Independent, that on Sunday night week the dwelling of Mr. H. S. Durham, about a mile from that place, was burned, and that Mr. D., his wife and a negro child perished in the flames. Upon examination of the bodies it was discovered that they had been badly dealt with. Mr. Durham's head was completely severed from his body, while his wife's skull was fractured in several places. The following particulars were elicited before the Coroner's inquest:

Two persons living near the house stated that they were aroused from sleep by the galloping of a horse past their dwelling. That they arose and proceeded to the house of Mr. Durham, which they found to be in flames, and discovered the three bodies; they, to use their own words, "concluded that Durham and his wife were burnt up, and that it was unnecessary to give alarm!" so they returned home again, thereby giving the murderer a chance to escape. Comment is unnecessary. Suspicion rests upon a negro, the property of Mr. Durham, as he is missing. Several of our citizens are now in pursuit of him, and it is to be hoped that he will soon be captured.

UThe person who was so kind as to take "Arthur's Magazine" from this Office, will confer a favor by returning it.

UHon. Thos. Corwin has taken the stump for Fillmore in Ohio. Lest Saturday he made a powerful speech at Carthage.

UAt a late barbecue at White Bluff in Tennessee, a Fillmore man got intoxicated and declared for Buchanan. He got sober again and declared for Fillmore. He says he is always for Buchanan when he is drunk, and for Fillmore when he is not. He swears he will not touch a drop on election day.

UWEDDING.—A wedding came off at the court house one day last week, in which the bride was fourteen and the bridegroom seventy odd years of age.—They were both children—the one in her first, the other in his second childhood; there was present at the nuptial ceremony, a daughter of the "old gentleman," as old as the bride's mother.—Havanna (Ill.) Herald.

Holloway's Pills are an excellent Family Medicine, and recommended to all sufferers with diseases of the Liver and Stomach. The surprising effect of these wonderful Pills have naturally made them a universal favorite with the citizens of the Union, as well as to the inhabitants of all other parts of the world, as they are the best and safest remedy for all disorders of the liver and stomach; and to the bilious sufferer they are invaluable. It is undisputedly admitted that these Pills have never been known to fail to cure these disorders when used in accordance with the direction which accompany each box.

THE UNION!

BUCK AND BRECK TO THE RESCUE!

There will be a meeting of the friends of the Union, those who are opposed to legalizing Slavery in the Territories, and who are opposed to making all children born of slave mothers in those Territories for the next two years slaves for life, this evening, Saturday, September 20, 1856, at Wittich's Hall.

Let there be a big turn-out of all who are opposed to a dissolution of this glorious Union, and they will be addressed by those able champions of Freedom, Dr. W. Griswold, Hon. John Cradlebaugh, and perhaps others. Let there be an old-fashioned gathering.

Rally! boys, rally!!

FRIENDS OF THE UNION! BUCK AND BRECK.

RALLY! RALLY!!

The friends of the Union and the Constitution will hold a grand Mass Meeting at South Bloomfield, on Saturday, 27th inst. Two hickory polls are to be raised. Let the friends of this glorious Union rally from their farms and from their workshops, from the hills and from the valleys, and spend one day for their country! The invaders are upon us!!—The Black Republican leaders are determined to divide the United States!!! Come up and blast their efforts for evil strife in our great brotherhood of States!!!! Come up and help hold the hands of the Treasury eaters, who have taken nearly $1,000,000 of the People's money out of the Treasury and put it into their own pockets!!!! Come up and help arrest the spread of slavery over the vast Territories of Kansas and Nebraska!!!! The Black Republicans in Congress have voted to pollute those Territories with the curse of slavery.—Then come out, and bring your wives, your sons and daughters with you, and show these traitors that you feel an interest still in the preservation of this Union.

S. S. Cox, J. Cradlebaugh, Dr. W. Griswold, and Hon. E. B. Olds will be present and address the people. Also, several able speakers from a distance have been invited, and are expected to be present.

Sept. 20, 1856.

A Fish Story.—We have read many fish stories, and they are generally of that tenor that the very name inclines one to disbelieve them. We have one to tell now which as we know the person who was the main actor in the incident, we can vouch for its being true, particularly as there is ocular evidence of the matter.

Some days ago the captain of a ship, at anchor outside the Pass, threw overboard a shark hook, baited, not expecting in the least, as the captain himself says, to catch anything of the fish tribe. There was hooked, however, a shark of the spotted kind, and, as it afterwards proved, a regular "man-eater." He had to be harpooned before his capture could be effected. His size and weight may be imagined, from the fact that it took eleven men to hoist him in, with a double lift on the main yard.

The monster measured seventeen feet inches in length from tail to snout, and nine feet in circumference. He had seven rows of teeth, three of the rows being almost hidden in the upper gums. His liver exactly filled up a beef barrel.

In his paunch was found the body of a man, in half decomposed state. So far as could be judged, the corpse was that of a well-dressed man, of medium size—shirt white, with pearl buttons, coarse silk under-shirt, cotton socks, and shoes (nearly new,) of the Congress garter kind.

The shark had also in his stomach several pieces of old canvas, such as are used by vessels on their rigging.

The jaw-bone of this sea pirate has been brought up to the city. It is large enough to take a sugar barrel.—N. O. Picayune, 19th ult.

'VAN BUREN AND SOUTHERN RIGHTS!—A friend suggests that this ought to be one of the rallying cries of the Bogus Democracy. Old Martin is the principal defender of Southern Rights under the constitution and the Kansas act, in the State of New York. His Southern friends ought not forget him. He is their "trump card" in New York and deserves a occasional complimentary notice.

Hail a cab in bad weather and it may come to your assistance; but hail a friend in your adversity, and see what notice he will take of you.

MILLARD FILLMORE.

A friend, says the National Intelligencer, who was an eye-witness of the following incident, narrated it to the editor of the New Orleans Creole, as an illustration of genuine love for humanity.—The principal actor in the scene doubtless never expected that it would have been made the subject of a newspaper paragraph; but it is so characteristic of true generosity and nobleness that it is here produced in the words of the narrator:

In the year 1851, I chanced to be one of a party who was taking an evening drive in the suburbs of the city of Washington. On nearing one of the cemeteries the attention of one of our party was arrested by a female, with three small children, seated near the closed gate.—She seemed deeply afflicted, and her miserable apparel and that of her little ones told a tale of suffering which was truly distressing. We had gone but a short distance when the person whose attention had been arrested by them ordered the driver to turn and drive to the place where they were seated. Descending from the carriage, he approached the woman and inquired the cause of her sorrow. In a plain and simple style she told her story thus:

"Two years before, her husband had left his home to find a better one in America. He had worked very hard, and saved money enough to send for his family, and had a small home prepared to receive them. That day they had arrived, but, alas! not to meet the glad husband and father, for two days previous he had fallen from a staging where he was at work, and now," said she, pointing to the gate, "he is in there. I've come out with my little ones to see the grave, but it's too late. The gate is shut and we must come back to-morrow."—The poor woman was quite overcome, and the children cried at beholding their mother's grief.

"Will you take a seat and ride home?" said the gentleman. "O thank you, thank you, sir, but I could not think of it." He insisted, and, taking one of the forlorn little creatures in his arms, he placed it in the carriage; the mother and remaining two children followed. I took a seat beside the driver, and ordered him to drive as the woman had directed.—The little ones soon dried their tears, and amused us by their innocent prattle; the youngest one often asking if we were going to take him to his father.

A half hour's drive brought us in front of a poor little hovel, which the woman said would be home if Jenny were there.

Assisting the party out, the gentleman conducted them to the door; then, drawing forth his card, he asked the woman's name. "Bridget Murphy," said she.—Writing it on the blank side, he handed it to her with a bank bill, saying, "when you need more send the card to me;" then, bidding her a kind good night, he took his seat, and we rode in silence to our respective lodgings.

That man was Millard Fillmore, then President of the U. S.

"SAVE US FILMORE OR WE SINK.—In the Union and American of yesterday we have the following:

"Nothing could be better known than that with separate Fremont and Fillmore tickets, Buchanan would carry at least the States of New Jersey, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, California and Pennsylvania, which, with his Southern vote, would triumphantly elect him."

Are you, there, "old Truepenny?" asks the Nashville Banner. You want Mr. Fillmore to run in the North, do you, as the only possible means of saving Old Buck's "bacon?" You want Mr. Fillmore's friends in all the non-slaveholding States to stand up to him honestly and faithfully, because by doing so, you say, they will ensure Mr. Buchanan's defeat. But while you thus clearly show that, as the only means of electing Mr. Buchanan, you are most anxious that Mr. Fillmore should be firmly and manfully sustained by his friends at the North, you are constantly calling upon his friends at the South to desert him! Is that manly? Is that honest?—Frankfort Commonwealth.

FILLMORE IN NEW JERSEY.—The Trenton Gazette, an able American Journal, gives us the following cheering intelligence from New Jersey: "The Republicans are in the deepest agitation at the prospect of losing New Jersey by the concurrence of conservative Democrats with the Americans and Whigs. We can't help it.—New Jersey will not be permitted, under any circumstances, to go for the sectional candidate. It would be a lasting disgrace, of which every generation of her children hereafter would be heartily ashamed.—The Republicans may as well, therefore yield, so far as New Jersey is concerned. If they show a disposition to do this, and assume their proper place as the rear-guard of the American party, they may probably find it to their interest. Under present circumstances Col. Fremont can in no contingency obtain the vote for the State."

SORTIE.—"Mary, I am glad your heel has got well." "Why?" said Mary, opening wide her large blue eyes with astonishment.

"O, nothing," said Juana, only I see it's able to be out."

Look out, Slave Owners.

We see the name of A. P. WILLARD, of Indiana, announced as one of the speakers at a Buchanan Democratic Barbecue to come off at New Castle, on the 29th instant. This A. P. WILLARD is the same man who, as a delegate and leading member of an Abolition convention in Indiana, repented the following resolutions, and which were adopted as the platform of the anti-slavery party of Indiana.

Resolved, That the institution of slavery ought not to be introduced into any Territory where it does not now exist.

Resolved, That inasmuch as New Mexico and California are in fact and in law free Territories, it is the duty of Congress to prevent the introduction of slavery within their limits.

And he is the same Willard who was charged by a paper in Louisville, a few years since, with stealing negroes.

When he comes to Kentucky, we say to slaveholders, watch your slaves.—Shelby News.

We commend the following article, to the Henry Clay Whigs who now support James Buchanan:

A STRANGE ANIMAL.—The present canvass for the Presidential office has revealed a new order of animals that we do not recollect to have seen described in history, tale, or song—a sort of

"Lameless, lousy-woolly brother, Half-fool, half-saint; A creature of any nature, A beast on land, a fish in water."

The VARMINT to which we allude is called an "Old Line Henry Clay Buchanan Whig!" and we venture to say no such creature was ever before heard of in this or any other country. Alluding to the biped, a few days ago, we understand a friend of ours, at Cedar Hill, in Anson county, remarked that he had heard of many strange animals, such as the Woolly Horse, the Kangaroo, the Gyaecius, and the great Bos Hoo that it took two ships to bring from the Feejee Islands, but never before had the world produced such a zoological wonder as the "Old Line Henry Clay Buchanan Whig."

The nearest approximation to the new order that we recollect to have heard anything about, is presented in the person of one Caleb Cushing, now Attorney General of the United States, and an influential member of the Pierce Cabinet. He is described by one who knows him well as double-sexed (hermaphrodite) in point of style and durability to any other work east or west, of this market.

TWO "BUCK NIGGERS" IN THE REAR!

Fusion.—At Falmouth, on the first Monday in this month, the Democracy held what they call a "Grand Rally," and Mass Meeting. It is said there was about 40 Democrats present, who are, no doubt, as obnoxious to the people of Pendleton county, as forty thieves would be. That EMINENT and PEERLESS statesman, His Excellency, O. P. Hogan, delivered one of those eloquent and gynastic speeches, for which he is so justly celebrated. We have no doubt, but some enterprising man could make a fortune easily to engage Hogan and "Old Buck" to perform astonishing feats of muscular power; what an Acro-bat Family that would make.

Well, as we said those Democrats were bored by a long speech in the forenoon; and in the afternoon they formed a procession, and marched through the town, for the purpose of terrifying the women and children, and as a laughing stock for the men. All the sachems of this wonderful party took the lead of the procession, while the rear was brought up by two "Buck" Niggers.

Black Carpet Bag Men!

Three of these ubiquitous creatures have been hovering around Cynthiana for several days. They were discovered last Thursday, each had a black Carpet Bag in hand. If the Democratic party expect to vote those fellows anywhere in this region, their expectations can never be realized. The American party of this county don't intend to let any such transactions occur. We think that death is preferable to disgrace and dishonor; and when such an unprincipled party as the anti-American party of this State, connives secretly to overthrow and destroy the constitution of Kentucky, it behoves every patriot and American to trust in "God and keep his powder dry."

DAN BRIGHAM is still in our midst, as we have told our readers some time since, and will also say that we recommend this gentleman's talent for making life-like pictures, above all we have ever seen. Give him a call.

HURRAH FOR FILLMORE & DONELSON

Away goes the standard flies,
High sounds our bugle-call;
The voice of battle's on the breeze—
Arouse for Fillmore, one and all!

Friends of Fillmore and Donelson in old Harrison, the time for work has arrived. The same spirit which once animated the patriots of '76, and carried them through a seven years struggle, is necessary to beat back the cohorts of anti-Americanism, and red-Republicanism.

Arouse! then, and make one Herculean effort, and the day is ours. Let us rebuke and annihilate the dastardly policy advocated by our opponents—a policy that is certain to impoverish our country—destroy our commerce, and create civil war in our midst. If you love the homes of your childhood—if you cherish peace more than turmoil and anarchy, and you desire the prosperity of the country you live in, vote against that tyrant, James Buchanan. He is the man above all others the people should hate. Let every American be ready to vote for Fillmore and Donelson on the 4th of November.

LETTER WRITERS.—We see that the Anti-American organs of this state have published a letter from that distinguished abolitionist B. F. Hallett. The fellow undertakes to exculpate himself of the charge of abolitionism, but he assisted in electing Sumner to the Senate of the United States, that disunion abolitionist. "Oh! yes, he is a very good democrat!" Again, he is the undoubted author of the Buffalo Free-Soil Platform! "Oh! yes, he is an excellent democratic!" Yes, hurra for Squater-Sovertyism, and all other isms, so you endorse old Buck, you're all right.

We assert that Fred Douglass, the negro editor in New York, is an abolitionist, and he has Buchanan's name at the head of his paper for President, we are informed, and we expect to see a letter, ere long, exculpating, "the gentleman from Africa," of the charge of abolitionism. Wonder if he can't write a letter denouncing these "ugly Americans" for charging him with abolitionism. We would not be astonished if the Sags had received one from him already. Come, trot out your negro letter writer—clean his skirts of Abolitionism. We would suggest to the Sags, that perhaps the Emperor Solon of St. Domingo, might write a good letter.

FILLMORE BARBECUE.

The good people of Lexington will hold on the 29th (next Wednesday) an American Barbecue to which a cordial invitation is extended to all. Suppose the Americans of Harrison go up to Fayette and have a "good time" and talk over matters. We are certain that the trip will justify the expense. Let us show anti-Americans that the Fillmore party in this State can rally such a crowd as will astonish and terrify them.

DAN BRIGHAM is still in our midst, as we have told our readers some time since, and will also say that we recommend this gentleman's talent for making life-like pictures, above all we have ever seen. Give him a call.

DAN BRIGHAM will be absent from his Room on Monday and Tuesday next.

Last Thursday, as per large hand bills, issued by the Democracy hereabouts, was to have been a "gallorous" day; but for some reason or other, unknown to us, no great stir was made—no whisky was destroyed—and as a matter of course, under such state of ease, no black-eyes carried home. However, quite a number of the old sachems came early to town, that "memorable morning," to pay their respects to the speaker of the day, O. P. Hogan, of Grant Co. We could see nobody in town at ten o'clock except a few old "fells," who were anxiously looking up and down Main street—anticipating a sudden and grand rush of Democracy into town. But the Sun set that night in all the glory and grandeur which the eye of man can conceive of, and reflected on the Eastern horizon a scenery, by far, more beautiful than we have seen before for months,—and disappeared beneath the western hills without ever having furnished one solitary streak of light for a Democratic meeting that day. Where they meet we are unable to say. They certainly did not meet in town—if they did, they must have crawled under the Court-house, for they certainly did not crawl into it. Now if these Sag-nights hold secret meetings, we would like to know it, so that we might expose their inconsistency. We rather suspect that many of them have become ashamed of themselves, and their foul party, and are afraid to hold meetings openly.

He was a sensible man who said the newspaper is the best breakfast company in the world.

Our readers should keep in mind that S. F. JANUARY, offers at Public Sale, to day, (23d day of October,) 340 Acres of fine Bourbon land. See advertisement in another column.

Godey's Ladys' Book for November has been received. It seems to increase in value as it attains age. None should be without it.

Arthur's Home Magazine has been laid on our table. The editor is making great improvement in this periodical. In addition to other fine embellishments, this Magazine will hereafter contain a beautiful colored steel fashioned plate in every number.

It is said that Breckinridge flushed when he was nominated at the Anti-American Menagerie for Vice President. We would like to know why he did not faint? How Piercely and popular he would have been had he fainted.

To our PATRONS.—This is the third No. of our seventh volume, and we desire that those who have been taking our paper for many years, without payment, would call and square their accounts. It is necessary, as it will save us the trouble of calling on such persons.

Immediately after Jno. C. Breckinridge returned from Congress, he made a speech in Cynthiana, in which he harped very distressingly about the principles of the American party. He talked much about our principles being unconstitutional, especially the proposition to extend the time of probation for a foreigner in this country to twenty-one years. The move for a change in the naturalization laws was most odious in his holy eyes, and he talked about the constitution being molested, as if the naturalization laws had been made a part of the constitution; in fact he left the impression on the minds of those hearers, who knew no better, that the constitution must really be changed before we could effect our purpose, and some of the small-fry anti-American politicians raised a hue-and-cry over the country, "that the constitution was struck at by the Americans." The intimation that our party desired to molest the constitution, was mean and malicious, and nobody but an unscrupulous demagogue would have made it. Every person with any brains at all, is aware of the fact that the constitution does not define the time that an alien must remain in this country. But we desire our friends to notice that this expounder of constitution alities, denounced the American party—unconstitutionally, on account of the proposition to change the naturalization laws. We look upon Mr. Breckinridge as an honest man, but certainly his inconsistency is very clearly seen in his voting for the Kansas Nebraska act, in the fifth section of which will be found the following:

"That the right of suffrage and of holding office shall be exercised by citizens of the United States, and those who shall have declared on oath their intention to become such, and shall have taken an oath to support the Constitution of the United States."

In this paragraph, the reader will perceive that the law requiring the foreigner to remain in this country five years, has been abrogated, has been repealed, and the very moment he lands upon our shores, with the salt spray hardly dried upon his carcass, he can instantly go before a magistrate, and there, after declaring upon oath his intention to support our constitution, go to the polls and cast his vote, and hold office. Now the Ink had hardly dried on the paper where these Sag-nights had recorded their votes in favor of the above outrageous law, when Hon. John C. Breckinridge went howling and bawling round the country, denouncing the American party as unconstitutional for proposing a change in the naturalization laws. We would not be astonished if the Sags had received one from him already. Come, trot out your negro letter writer—clean his skirts of Abolitionism. We would suggest to the Sags, that perhaps the Emperor Solon of St. Domingo, might write a good letter.

DAN BRIGHAM will be absent from his Room on Monday and Tuesday next.

During the canvass of 1852, Jno. C. Breckinridge took an active part in assisting Pierce into the Executive chair. He was addressing a very respectable audience at Cane Ridge, Bourbon Co., and in speaking of his friends of the Emerald Isle, he aroused one of the melismas to a shouting and troublesome point. The Irishman rushed to the stand in his drunken condition, and threw his arms around John's neck, and hugged him. Breckinridge submitted to all this fumbling, taunting, and stopped his speech until the Irishman's feelings had subsided. We did not learn whether Breckinridge returned the embrace with the same cordiality that he received from the Irishman, but it does seem to us that a man of Mr. Breckinridge's standing ought not to stoop so low to catch a vote.

ANOTHER GRAND FIZZLE.—The anti-American Disunion party of this State will have another fizz in Lexington today. This is the second attempt of this foul party to gather a crowd of people. We venture the assertion, that it won't amount to more than a drunken rabble of office-hunting demagogues, and "wild Irishmen."

THE PROSPECT IN KENTUCKY—
THE STATE SAFE FOR FILLMORE AND DONELSON.

OFFICE OF THE STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE AMERICAN PARTY OF KENTUCKY.

Frankfort, Oct. 1856.

It having been industriously asserted and circulated by the anti-American and Sag-Nicht press, that Kentucky will give her electoral vote to Buchanan and Breckinridge—

There fore to satisfy and assure our friends throughout the Union, we announce to them that the vote of Kentucky will be cast for Fillmore and Donelson.

From information derived from correspondents and from many other reliable sources, we tell the people of the country that, notwithstanding the importation of foreign voters and the distribution of large sums of money, that the State is certain and sure for Fillmore and Donelson.

By the memory of Washington, by the battle fields of our Revolution, and the blood of our forefathers, by our glorious constitution and the triumphant flag of our country, we invoke the people of the States to come up to the help of the Union, now in danger from the strife of contending and reckless sectional parties, and to cast their votes for Millard Fillmore as the man who can give peace and tranquility to the country.

Kentucky has ever loved and been loyal to the Union as the best of human governments. She will stand by it to the last—come what will, come what may. She led the American column in 1855. She is yet unconquered and unconquerable, despite of frauds largesses. Stand by her in this hour of our country's danger, Patriots and Union men of all parties, and we will elect Millard Fillmore, and crush out and silence forever the wild fury of foreignism and sectional strife.

Committee.

At the last session of the American Council for the State, an Executive Committee was organized at Louisville as auxiliary to the State Executive Committee at Frankfort. This auxiliary Committee have, in connection with the Committee at Frankfort, made a thorough canvass and analysis of the vote of the State, and stated the gratifying result arrived at by the investigations of both Committees in the following card:

Office of the Executive Committee of the American Party.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 8, 1856.

The statements of the Anti-American party that Buchanan and Breckinridge would receive vote of Kentucky, have remained unanswered by the Executive Committee until a thorough investigation of the matter could be made. That investigation has been made, and the Executive Committee feel fully authorized, after a careful analysis of the vote in each District, every county and almost every precinct, to assert that the State of Kentucky is safe and certain for Fillmore and Donelson.

The notorious "Captain Rynders," head bully and chief leader of that gang of shoulder-bitting, slug shot a bludgeon bearing crew, which the Tammany Hall Democrats of New York city gathered from the brothels and thievenes of the city, and keep in pay to do the bullying and fighting of the clan whenever it falls in danger of being overborne by the honest voters at the polls or in conventions of their own party—this Capt. Rynders has written a letter of Kentucky to impeach the moral and political character of C. Chauncey Burr, Esq. We have only so say in regard to it, first, that Mr. Burr came to Kentucky under the endorsement of men far above Capt. Rynders grade in responsibility; and, next, that if Mr. Burr's character were as bad as the best we ever heard attributed to Capt. Rynders, he might well be confessed to be rather "a bad egg."—Frank.
